

Vaishali Geib, M.D.

Market Medical Executive
Cigna/Evernorth
Herndon, Virginia

Dr. Vaishali Geib joined Cigna in 2019. She also continues to practice internal medicine in Northern Virginia. She works closely with employers, health care professionals and community organizations to improve the quality and value of health care. She received her M.D. degree from the University of Missouri Kansas City in the six-year, combined B.A./M.D. program. She completed her residency and chief residency in internal medicine at Johns Hopkins University/Sinai Hospital in Baltimore, Maryland. She also completed a fellowship at the Arizona Center for Integrative Medicine at the University of Arizona, where she served on the leadership council under Dr. Andrew Weil. After her residency, Dr. Geib worked at America Online Corp (AOL) in Dulles, Virginia for five years. She assisted in leading business development and sales strategy in the health business vertical. She was also the health spokesperson for the company, where she made numerous national and local television and radio appearances on behalf AOL. In addition to her practice, from 2011 to 2016, Dr. Geib served as co-president of Shenandoah Independent Practice Association, which is an organization of independent physicians dedicated to high-quality patient care, reducing costs and streamlining the delivery of care with accountability to the patients it serves. Dr. Geib, a native Northern Virginian, lives with her urologist husband, Shane, and family, including their adorable yorkie-poodle, KB.