

David G. Myles, CEBS

Benefits Consultant
Toronto, Ontario

Mr. Myles has over 30 years of experience in the pensions and benefits field including working in multi-employer, corporate and consulting environments. His experience includes Canadian, U.S. and international benefits and pension administration and management. Mr. Myles is currently working self-employed as a benefits consultant. Previously, Mr. Myles was with Vialto Partners, a PwC divestiture, as the senior manager of the Benefits Americas Area where he led the benefits set up and implementation for the region as well as provided guidance and insight globally. Prior to that, he was the manager of total rewards at Honda Canada Inc, where he was responsible for compensation, pension and benefits strategy, governance and administration, and oversight of payroll. He sat on the Honda Canada Pension Committee, the HR subcommittee and the Honda North America Compensation Committee. Prior to Honda, Mr. Myles spent many years with Nexans SA, a multinational wire and cable manufacturer based in Paris, where he was manager of compensation and benefits in North America. He co-chaired the Nexans North America Pension Management Committee and Benefits Steering Committee and also sat on the Nexans Global Benefits Steering Committee. Mr. Myles received a diploma in business administration with a major in human resources from Sheridan College. He is one of few Canadians holding the U.S. CEBS® designation. He is a member of the International Foundation's Canadian Corporate Committee. Mr. Myles has also served on the Symposium Education Committee and is a Past President of the Toronto chapter of ISCEBS.